Andy's Illustrated Talks

An experienced public speaker, I have given dozens of talks to a variety of groups since 2016. I have a first class honours degree in History and an MA in Museum Studies. I have been associated with the British Schools Museum in Hitchin since 2009.

I can bring portable equipment, but if you do have a screen at your venue this helps to lighten my load.

Talks last between 45 and 75 minutes and can be tailored to your requirements (within reason!) I am happy to take questions; I may even be able to answer some of them!

My fee is just £1 per head (minimum £40). I donate half of this to my chosen charity: The Hitchin British Schools Trust. Travelling expenses are charged at 25p per mile.
